

Aubrey Swanepoel - Pfortner

Aubrey founded Pfortner in 2008. From humble beginnings in his garage, the business has grown and now serves customers in 15 countries. Pfortner secures IoT and Messaging systems using the highest levels of encryption and its patented STEALTH technology. Along with Craig Rosewarne, GM of Wolfpack Information Risk, Aubrey Swanepoel also founded the Incident Response Company in 2016.

The STEALTH perimeter security solution provided is probably one of the most important components of technology for a business. The solution to the challenge of secure connectivity has been articulately developed around the needs of Pfortner's clients. Their unique secure redundant connectivity offering saves clients time and money, but mostly it simplifies their business. Perimeter security problems are overcome by combining robust solutions architecture with proprietary technology delivered through the flexibility of a physical firewall appliance, a virtual firewall appliance or a software only solution.

Aubrey will be discussing IMVisible - The Community Incident Response Platform